WRITINGS FROM DEACON

Martha is the consummate hostess in today's gospel. Still, she finds herself overwhelmed by the duties which she takes on. She doesn't nudge Mary to assist but appeals to Jesus to direct Mary to help.

Jesus says that Martha is worried about many things and that only one thing is necessary. Mary has chosen the better thing. Certainly, the group of people had needs to be met. Was Martha burdening herself with many things: preparing crudités, charcuterie, wrap sandwiches and pizza when only one thing ... was necessary? She would then be free to study at Jesus's feet as well.

In the first reading, Abraham was speaking with the Lord. He looked up and saw three strangers and ran to offer them hospitality. Saint Benedict instructs in rule 53:1 “All guests who present themselves are to be welcomed as Christ”.
