FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

Today's readings are a real wake up call to me. The prophet Malachi in the first reading directs his frustrations at the priests. Malachi tells them that they are to uphold the covenant and show no partiality or favoritism to the rich in keeping the quality sacrifices for themselves. They are to recognize all as children of God. Jesus in the gospel condemns the burdens Pharisees are placing on others while seeking glory in their positions.

All authority, whether as a teacher or parent or leader or a priest comes from God. Where pride, ego, arrogance, and power corrupt, the consequence is that all people suffer. Having any leadership role makes us accountable to God and we need to be able to respond to God with confidence in the vocation He has given us.

But our leadership needs to talk the talk based on God's words, meaning based on truth, justice, integrity, mission, and purpose. We need to not only talk the talk but walk the walk. We need to use our gifts to serve others. When we speak one way and live another, we will be leading others away from God and thwarting the responsibility He has entrusted to us.

The gospel message is a very sobering one. We are placed in positions of responsibility, and we must always remember that our teaching, our actions, and our leadership need to be based on the laws of God and His Church. Living the life of faith within the Church brings us up against the hard realities of our human weakness, and the glories of our human lives transformed by grace. There are times we are tempted to give up. There are times we are deluded about ourselves and fall into sin. Jesus knows how we are tempted and gave us the sacraments to help us with our temptations. Penance helps us to face up to our faults without despairing and heals them through prayer and good works. The Eucharist nourishes us with grace and joins us closer to Christ.

God has given us all the gift of faith and He needs us to be like St. Paul in his love for his people. St. Paul in today's reading was as gentle as a nursing mother is in caring for her children. He shared not only the gospel of God, but his very self. Paul was preaching with the example of his life and not just his voice.

We need to follow the same road. We need to be there for each other. I promise to do my best for you, to pray for you and I ask for your prayers, that I may continue to be deserving of being called Father.

God bless you, Fr. Stan
